Report from Chaffee

PT. CHAFFEE, ARK. — The 134th Transportation Co., activated from Bay St. Louis, Miss., is now serving a dual purpose at Pt. Chaffee.

The 134th has been going through an intensified 13-week combat training course and has simultaneously been operating all the trucks on the post, transporting both troops and equipment.

A major phase of combat training is On The Job Training (OJT), which gives the man actual experience in fulfilling their mission—in the case of the 134th, operating the transportation facilities on post.

The training, now winding up, started with classroom work, as it did for other units here in similar training cycles. Lasting about two weeks, these classes covered such topics as the military code of conduct and intelligence, and included intensive physical training exercises.

On a recent training session in the bivouac area of this 7,000-acre post, the members of the 134th, trained with carbines, machine guns and handgrenades, performing their transportation mission under attack by a mythical enemy composed of fellow recalled reservists.

Representatives from Fourth Army Headquarters at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, were to test the unit last weekend to see if the men learned their lessons well enough during the training cycle to perform credibly under an actual combat situation, should the occasion arise.

Not all members of the 134th have been taking part in this program of intensified combat training. Some have been attending Army schools: Staff Sgt. Andre J. Arceneaux and Sgt. Thomas W. Favre, cooks school; Specialist Fourth Class Stanis C. Crippen and James D. Sones, Non Commissioned Officer (NCO) Academy; Sones also attended chemical, biological and radiological (CBR) school with Sgt. Robert J. Boudin.

Otis, Seal Due 50-Year Pins From Masons

Fifty-year membership buttons and certificates from the Grand Lodge of the Masons will be presented to Lamar Otis and Leo W. Seal at a public meeting of the Diamond Masonic Lodge at 7:30 p.m. Friday, March 2, at Logtown School.

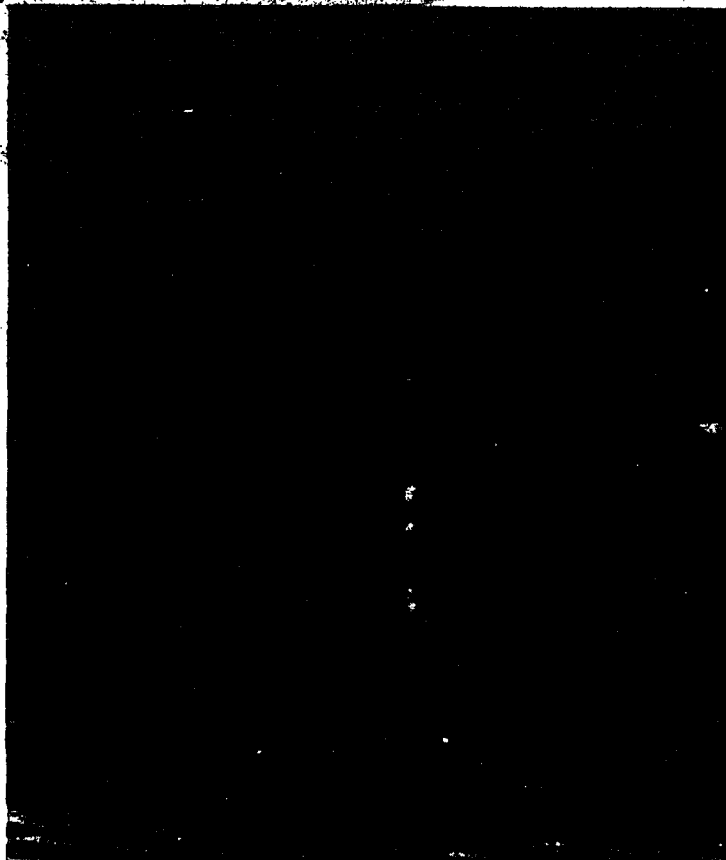

Judge L. C. Corban of Ocean Springs will be guest speaker for the occasion. Refreshments will be served afterwards.

All Master Masons are to attend a short business session at the Lodge Hall in Logtown at 7 p.m. that day before proceeding to the school for the public ceremonies. The membership will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday to complete arrangements for the function.

Port Commission Bill Introduced

Measures to create a Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission were introduced during the last week in the state legislature in preparation for the opening of the NASA test site at Gainesville.

Rep. Clarence M. Ladner who introduced the house bill said it will be necessary to provide some harbor and dockside facilities.

ENAMELING PLANT GETS SET — Robert Gilbreath, left foreground, manager of the new enameling division of Industrial Electric, Inc., views first car of steel being unloaded at new plant on Central Avenue last week. Machinery is now being moved in and Pat Boudreau, superintendent of the sheet metal shop, said the porcelain enamel furnace should be fired Saturday. Night shift operations will start next week.

News Briefs

IT'S HEART SUNDAY

School students will conduct a door-to-door canvass in Beat 5 Sunday for the annual Heart Sunday campaign. Mrs. C. R. Beyer, county chairman for the fund drive, announced this week.

Seniors and Beta Club members from Bay High School will make the solicitation in the Bay-Waveland area while pupils from Gulfview School will canvass in Clermont Harbor and Lakeshore.

ROUND-UP ON ORBIT

Particularly personal interest in John Glenn's orbit Tuesday was taken by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ratenburg of Waveland whose son-in-law, Capt. Max Berns is in command of the USS Randolph which supervised recovery. The Berns family resided in the Bay a year ago. Owen Crawford, brother of Mrs. Fred Peranich of Delisle was chief engineer for launching of the astronaut at Cape Canaveral, Fla. Climaxing the whole thing, Postmaster Andy J. Becker put new commemorative 40 cent stamps on the first orbital flight on sale Wednesday morning and did a landline business.

DIVORCES GRANTED

Eight divorces were granted through 10 a.m. Wednesday by Chancellor William Hewes in Chancery Court which convenes this week. They were as follows:

Margaret P. Schenckner vs. Lawrence J. Schenckner; Verlin Ladner vs. Rudy Ladner; Clifford Albert Boal vs. Mildred Chapman Boal; Mary Lynne vs. Harold Fred Lynne; Mrs. Gladys Ward Beams vs. Toivie S. Beams; Ollie Mitchell vs. Malcolm Mitchell; Lucien Curry vs. Clara F. Curry; and Isabel Frederick vs. Leonard Frederick.

HOUSING TOPIC

All real estate brokers in the county are to attend a meeting at 7:45 p.m. Wednesday at the Courthouse of the NASA coordinating sub-committee on housing.

Hancock General Urged For Full Accreditation

The Inspector from the Joint Commission on Accreditation said he will recommend to the commission that Hancock General Hospital be granted a full three-year term of accreditation following his visit here last week.

Dr. Arno H. Fromm informed Dr. A. K. Martinovich, Jr., chief of the hospital medical staff, and Thomas O. Logue, administrator, of his findings at the conclusion of a detailed check of the institution last Friday. It probably will be about two months before the commission's action is forthcoming but it is rare indeed when the inspector's recommendation is reversed.

Hancock General thus should become the smallest hospital in Mississippi so recognized. It was noted further that on few occasions does an institution measure up to the requirements on the first try at accreditation.

The rating is based on the quality of patient care with priority given to staff organization and to medical records. The inspector said these two instances are where most small hospitals fall short. He told the two men he was impressed with the workability here, noted educational items and he cited some deficiencies.

GEORGE'S BIRTHDAY

Federal, state and city offices will be closed today in observance of George Washington's birthday. That means no mail deliveries. The Corps of Engineers office also will be closed.

The third break-in during the last 18 months at Hancock North Central School occurred late Monday afternoon when about $300 in lunchroom funds were taken, Sheriff Gerald V. Price reported.

Deputy Gerald Fayre was dispatched to investigate the matter but so far no leads have turned up, he said.

County Superintendent K. G. McCarty fixed the amount stolen at $303.99. He said Leo Rouse, superintendent at the school, discovered the break-in when he returned from a visit with his daughter just before dark Monday. The money had been in the filing cabinet when he left earlier in the afternoon. The culprits pried open the lock. About $1,300 was taken in the fall of 1960 when the safe was broken and the thieves got $15 last November in another incident, McCarty recalled.

The county board of education requested the sheriff to fingerprint the student body after the last incident and only last week Price told the Echo he was ready to assign a man to that in the next few days.

The sheriff's office has had a busy time during the last 10 days. Three Kennuckians, Leland Gregory, Virgil Elam and John Johnson were picked up last week with an assortment of burglary tools and loot. Each has been convicted and fine $50 for carrying a concealed weapon and $25 for drunkenness before Beat 5 JP Neilus Rhodes while charges of possessing stolen goods and burglary tools are being held for study for district attorney's office. They are in the county jail.

Homer Dean, Alias Sunny Dean, 22, Negro, waived preliminary hearing before Beat 1 JP Lester Hoyer and is in the jail, in lieu of $1,000 bond for grand jury action in the theft of assorted bathroom items from an empty restaurant on U. S. 90. William J. Hollingsworth, 32, of Gulfport, was released on $5,000 bond to appear before the grand jury in the same case.

Shakespeare Movie Shown County Pupils

School students by the hundreds jammed into Star Theater Wednesday to see the Shakespearean movie, Henry V, which was arranged for local showing by City-County Memorial Library as the first of its cultural shows initiated by the late C. M. Dolesau.

Teachers cooperated with the program by requiring book reports on the color film starring Laurence Olivier in exchange for time away from classes. Buses brought some 400 down from Hancock North Central in the morning while city schools went in the afternoon and St. Stanislaus and others at night.

Admission was 15 cents, to cover cost of mailing the film. Joseph Scatiff, theater proprietor, permitted use of the building and Mrs. G. F. Stanton talked in the afternoon on Shakespeare. The library committee in charge included Mrs. J. W. Clark, chairman, Mrs. Sam Whitfield, Mrs. R. G. Hubbard, Jr., and Mrs. Rene deMontolieu.

THANK YOU, SIR — City commissioner, Cyril Glover, accepts a $300,000 check from E. F. Mitchell, senior vice president and bond manager of First National Bank of Memphis, Tenn., purchasers of the BAWI bond issue, to finance the new porcelain enameling plant of Industrial Electric, Bay St. Louis's first big industrial venture which will begin operations shortly. Dan Russell, city attorney, and A. L. Johnson, bank vice president, view the proceedings Feb. 15 in Memphis.

NC Principal's Post, Football Left in Air

The post of superintendent at Hancock North Central School and the future of football there were left open by the county board of education at a brief recessed meeting last Wednesday night.

The board did respond to Walter J. Phillips as attorney and Mrs. Estelle Depree and Inez Favre as secretaries in the superintendent's office at the same salary as last year before adjourning until March 5 at 2:30 p.m.

County Superintendent K. G. McCarty said he had one name to submit for the North Central post if he were forced to do so at the meeting but preferred to investigate other applicants further.

He made it clear that at this time he will not ask the board to approve another contract for the present superintendent, Leo Rouse, which expires June 30, saying that while he personally liked the man he had complaints of negligence and politics.

Phillips counseled that the low calls for the appointment between Jan. 15 and Feb. 15 but there has been no decision on what happens if this is not done. It was not filled until April the last time. Trustee E. P. Orte said he thought the board should get away from the two-year term but preferred to investigate other applicants further. Stray Dogs And Bonds City Items

Stray dogs and the $300,000 for the BAWI bond issue were the two questions considered by Bay St. Louis's mayor and commission council Monday.

Because the exact amount to be paid Industrial Electric, Inc., for its plant on Central Avenue has not been determined, council recessed from day to day. The city's contract with the corporation sets a ceiling of $300,000 as the price, while the actual cost to the corporation for the property, including a contractually set amount for the land itself, probably exceeds by

Carnival Celebrations Scheduled

SJA Ball Is Saturday

The 29th annual Mardi Gras Ball sponsored by St. Joseph Academy Parents' Club will take place Saturday at 9 p.m. in St. Joseph's Memorial Hall.

As is customary, the identity of the king and queen and of their royal court is kept secret until their appearance at the ball.

Costumes for this year's court are quite original and unlike any others which have appeared until now. In keeping with the theme of Rhapsody in Dreams, each maid and dolt will be introduced by the strains of the melody which they represent.

The musical score in itself will be a unusual innovation for this ball as each song has been carefully selected and the entire score has been especially taped for this occasion.

Entertainment will be provided by the Hines Dance Studio of Gulfport.

Tickets, at $2 each, are available at Bobby Ann Bakery, Fahey Drug Store and Waveland Drug Store. All seats are reserved. Edward Marting, ticket chairman, reports sales have increased in the past week, and advises purchases to avoid disappointment at the door.

Mayor John Scatiff is general chairman and master of ceremonies; Mrs. Andy Becker, executive chairman, with Mrs. R. G. Hubbard, Mrs. Lawrence Jacobs, and Mrs. Willys Rhodes, co-chairmen. Other committee chairmen are Arthur Chapman, floor; Mrs. Charles Flisk and Mrs. Clifford Becklund, court; Mrs. Edward Neelise, publicity; Mrs. A. G. Favre and Mrs. Herman Mazarakis, publicity; Mrs. Virgil Glend, set design; Mrs. J. A. Lagasse, Jr., theme and decorating; Warren Carver, (Cont. on Page 5.)

Denizens Tell Reservations

King of the first annual mock Carnival ball of Bay-Waveland Yacht Club, Denizens of the Deep, will be revealed when he arrives by boat at the club pier at 9 p.m. Friday escorted by the captain of the krewe, Richard Hadden. Five maids, from whom the queen is to be drawn by lot, will be disclosed when the men ascend to the ballroom for the dance to begin.

Reservations for what promises to be a gala occasion have been received from the following:

Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Hadden, Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Bohl, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Ewin, Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Edward

CHICAPOULA ROYALTY — Reigning over the Mardi Gras celebration here sponsored by the Bay Central Parent-Teacher Assn. on March 6 will be Bruce Cox, left, as king of the Krewe of Chicapoula, Connie Geiger as queen and Andy Loup as captain of the krewe.

Chicapoula Court Told

Wide, Wide World has been selected as the theme for the Krewe of Chicapoula's court in the annual Carnival festivities March 6 sponsored by the Bay Central Parent-Teacher Assn.

Bruce Cox and Connie Geiger will reign as king and queen of the krewe with Andy Loup as captain of the court. TV programs is the overall theme of the Carnival. Maids will be Janellie Kingdon, Betty Carol Hill, Kathleen Maloney, Judy Lauderdale, Dale Russell, Patricia Perniciaro, Martha Ann Rutherford, Nancy Swartz, Phyllis Sauer, Claire McArthur, Eva Chaney, Rosemary Blibo, Cheryl Meredith and Brenda Tartavouille. Dukes will be John Shattuck, Wayne Grigsby, Riley Walker, Danny Kranke, Louis Ferrell, Wayne Oliver, Lomde Schultz, Thaddeus Collier, James Harvill, Alexis Romanoff, Roy Pennington, John Miller, Leonard Ring and Don Whit.

Ladies in waiting will be Elaine Varborough and Ruby Ann Oliver with Deane Raynald and Jacqueline Coludovich as flower girls and Tonia Logue and Martha Langford as junior maids.

Heralds will be Michael Richardson and John Wheeler with Chuck Miller and Walter Loup as pages.

SCHOOL MONEY SENT

U. S. Rep. William Colmer has notified Superintendent J. D. McCullough of the Bay St. Louis Separate Municipal School District that the Office of Education has certified the schools for immediate payment of $2,850 under the federally impacted areas law. Tentative entitlement for the fiscal year is $4,140.

Now Membership Carrying Chamber

Membership and redistricting are the two topics at Hancock County Chamber of Commerce board meeting Monday. With the demands on the chamber resulting from the NASA test site the chamber needs more financial than ever the board members, yet their membership is lagging well behind the last two years ago.

The effort to overcome this need asked Robert Hamilton, Hancock Bank vice president and board member, to come area businesses and individual members and ask them to join the organization for financial and moral support. Redistricting was on the board took no action on their request addressed by board of supervisors that they redistrict the county way. The members, all in were present, seemed that in their earlier which included a request for organizations join them in redistricting, the of Commerce had gone as far as the organization properly should.

The board also held for consideration at its March meeting a request by Pass Christian's Chamber of Commerce that it seek legislative opposition to a proposed state law that would give the Marine Conservation Commission authority to sell shells from dead reefs. The commission's predecessor had this authority but a recent Mississippi Supreme Court decision held that the state setting up the present seafood governing body did not give it that authority. It is from this source that the Marine Conservation Commission receives a major part of its operating funds. The commission receives no funds direct from the state and another major source depends on the shrimp industry, whose had season last year promised less revenue than expected.

MINISTS

Rev. Rethel, New Orleans, and immediate past president of the ex-FBI agents discussed the Communist in a talk before the Rotary Wednesday. He related their methods of in the U. S., and some sympathizers to them with 1,000 members. The was arranged by Hugh and R. P. Gray.

Farming The Sea

As some men explore outer space and prepare to land on the moon, others dive to the depths of the sea to uncover its hidden secrets.

Fish account for about 12 per cent of the world's animal protein foods, and supply 74 per cent of the annual protein for the seafaring Japanese. Each year, something like 30,000,000 tons of food products are taken from the sea. It is estimated that over 50 per cent of the seafood produced in the United States comes from Gulf Coast waters.

The scientific farming of the sea, with 70 per cent of the surface of the earth under water, is only in its infancy.

Before industrial development on the Mississippi Coast became so diversified with shipping, ship building, moon projects, oil refineries, gas wells, tourists and air force installations, ours was primarily a seafood economy. We thrived on fish, oysters and shrimp, and the waters to the south of us still give up their wealth. Under the public-spirited leadership of Bill Simpson, former chairman of the Mississippi Marine Conservation Commission, and his associated worthy workers, great progress has been made in revitalizing the Coast's most neglected opportunity. In the constructive direction in which we are moving, and the continued cooperation of state and local authorities, we will restore a productive and picturesque industry to major proportions.

Farming the sea has only begun. As the biologists and ecologists learn more about the peculiar habits of fish, and we take fuller advantage of the information gathered, we will increase the yields of the sea just as we have multiplied the production of our farms.

Farming the sea has been pretty much a haphazard undertaking; men fish as they once pursued the hunt and chase for sustenance. No one has measured the potential productivity of the seas, but we do know from actual experience that with a little encouragement, one can make a good living fishing in our Gulf Coast waters. Just as there are diamonds under our feet, there are pearls in the sea. Mississippians will make their most pronounced progress by capitalizing more fully upon our God-given, natural resources.

Harbor Happenings

BY RAE COPE

HD7-5897

The Louis Wesmer's garden is their hobby. . . Already cleared of all freeze-deadened vegetation it is epic and spans as spring itself. They showed me a beautiful coffee table designed and made by son, Rev. Thomas J. Wesmer of St. Catherine Catholic Church in New Orleans, as their Christmas gift. . . It is of blond, hand-rubbed finish in contemporary style with white tile mosaic top, a copy of Rev. Wesmer's original drawing of a full-blown magnolia blossom so realistically carried out in white with shadings of many off-white tones, it looks as though the magnolia is on top of the table instead of being imbedded in it.

Charlie Baker, hospitalized for many months and for 18 months resided at Gulfview haven, has recovered enough to walk with the aid of crutches and is making his home at the R. J. Lander residence in Lakeshore.

Wedding Guests

Mrs. Ida Jourdan last Saturday attended the wedding of her grand niece, Miss Jean Berger to Louis Oiga of Pascagoula, formerly of N. O. . . Guests over the weekend at Mrs. Jourdan's, Forest Avenue home were the brides' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Berger and Mrs. Fred Berger of N. O.

Mrs. Emmett Stanley of New Orleans spent several days recently visiting her aunt and uncle, the J. A. Orlis on Bridges St. . . The H. L. Wesmer's spent several days visiting relatives in N. O. recently and while there called at Mercy Hospital to pay their respects to the Rev. M. J. Costello and found he was to take short walks in the hall by using a walker.

Get well wishes to Mrs. Albert Garcia who has been on the sick list and missed by her customers recently; and to Mrs. Ida Jourdan who entertained relatives over the weekend but was rushed by ambulance at 5 a.m. Monday to Mercy Hospital in N. O. Mrs. Harvey Ming a neighbor accompanied her in the ambulance. Alfred Daspl, recently hospitalized, has returned home; good wishes to him also.

Cake And Candles

We hope Carl Charles Augustine got his wish and had help in blowing out those 83 candles on Feb. 14. . . Happy birthday to Mrs. W. J. Howard who celebrates Feb. 16.

Red Cross time comes up in March. . . If Hugh Miller, the tv man, who is on the Hancock County Committee, calls on some one here to act as chairman of the Clermont drive; be prepared to accept the honor, and do all you can to help the good cause.

Sympathy is extended to the Ben Peterson family, on the death Monday morning of Mr. Peterson after a protracted illness.

Registration On for Crop Support Plan

Growers of corn and grain sorghum who did not take part in the 1961 feed grain program but who would like to participate this year are asked to check with the ASCS county office to be sure the necessary information for their farms is on record. The sign-up under the 1962 feed grain program now is under way and will extend through March 30.

Tommy F. Shaw, chairman of the Hancock Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, said information on a farm's crop acreages for 1959 and 1960 is being used in establishing the farm's corn-grain sorghum base. This information is already on record in the county office for most farms, and notices listing the particular farm's base acreage, yields, and rates of payment

Red Cross Volunteers Work Noted

Twelve local women's organizations entertained more than 400 veterans last year while three local Grey Ladies contributed 569 hours work under the Gulf Hospital Volunteer Council of the American Red Cross, according to the annual report of Mrs. Winthrop Baker, county chairman for these services.

The Grey Ladies working were Mrs. V. J. Piazza, Mrs. Walter Hava and Miss Alberta Beyer. Organizations giving monthly parties for patients at the Gulfport Veterans Administration Hospital were Woman's Missionary Society of First Baptist Church, Women's Societies for Christian Service of the Bay St. Louis, Waveland and Clermont Harbor Methodist Churches, Mothers Club of St. Joseph Academy, Order of the Eastern Star, Bay-Waveland and Pass Christian Yacht Club auxiliaries, Women of the Episcopal Church, Woodmen of the World, American Legion auxiliary, St. Margaret's Daughters and Bay-Waveland Garden Club.

At Christmas, the Hancock County chapter received donations of fruit cakes, candles and instant coffee for distribution between Keeler AFB Hospital and the VA installations at Gulfport and Biloxi for ward parties, along with assorted gifts for entertainment and rehabilitation work. Children's toys and ladies' gifts were supplied for the Keeler hospital also.

Mrs. Baker noted that besides the parties given by local women's groups here during the year, Bay-Waveland Garden Club entertained 106 patients at Gulfport in December, giving each patient a Christmas stocking and furnishing refreshments.

Purpose of the council is to meet requests for Red Cross services with day-by-day volunteers in the military and veterans in Mississippi, and one in Alabama participate in the program.

Miss Daley, Mr. Rhodes Wed in Ceremony at Pass

St. Paul's Catholic Church in Pass Christian was adorned with arrangements of gold and yellow mums and white gladioli for the wedding Sunday afternoon of Miss Joan Marie Daley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Daley of Pass Christian, to Nelius Carroll Rhodes, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes of Bay St. Louis. Rev. J. P. McGlade performed the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional gown of white Chantilly lace, the pointed bodice buttoning up the back with fitted sleeves. The bouffant skirt, which extended into a cathedral train, had an overskirt edged with lace, which also was used at the neckline, and trimmed the train. The bride wore a crown of pearls and she carried a bouquet of gladioli, lilies of the valley and orange blossoms, centered with two white orchids.

Miss Gay Rhodes, sister of the groom, was maid of honor with Misses Margaret Ann Lerner, Irma Jean Scymanski, cousins of the bride, and Mary Ann Pagano, all of Pass Christian, as bridesmaids. Their frocks were of starched chiffon with royal blue skirts and ice blue over blouses. They wore ice blue accessories, bandeaus of starched veiling with sprays of blue daisies at the front and carried bouquets of yellow and deep gold carnations. Little Marie Daley, niece of the bride, was flower girl.

Billy Rhodes was best man for his cousin. Groomsmen were Rogers Reinike, Bert Stiefel and Anthony Lolicano while Manuel Maurigi, Jr., cousin of the groom, and Marvel Daley, the bride's brother, ushered.

For the occasion the bride's mother chose an ice blue lame cut with a veiled hat while the groom's mother was in a mist blue silk dress with matching accessories. Their flowers were mauve cymbidium orchids.

A reception followed at the Miramar Hotel where magnolia branches formed the background for clusters of blush pink carnations. The four-tiered wedding cake, gift of the groom's uncle, Manuel Maurigi, centered the bride's table covered with a Madeira cut-work cloth. It was flanked with crystal candelabras and white mums and gladioli. Punch was dispensed by Mrs. Manuel Maurigi from a cut glass bowl. Tea girls were Misses Charlotte Price, Beth and Mary Doug Martagh and friends of the bride from Pass Christian.

For their wedding trip to Ponce, Fla., the bride changed to a beige wool suit with a fur collar, bone accessories and an orchid corsage. They will live on Carroll Avenue when they return.

Out of town guests included George Rhodes, Miss Annette Alley, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Guice, Mr. and Mrs. John Cook, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dick, George Williams, all of Biloxi; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hurlburt, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fuente, Gulfport; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Frederico and son, Rusty, New Orleans, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Dousset, Opelousas, La.

Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes entertained Saturday evening at their home on Main Street with a buffet supper for the wedding party and families following the rehearsal.

Pre-nuptial entertaining for the bride included a miscellaneous shower last Wednesday night given by Mrs. Frank Russell at her home in Pass Christian, the Valentine motif being used in refreshments and decorations.

Basfield Blasts Hawks

North Central, winner of the St. Louis Sideline Club basketball tournament, was stunned 59-57 Thursday night by Basfield in a highly-regarded Basfield in first-round play of the District Eight tournament in Poplarville. The defeat, eliminated any chances the Hawks might have had of regaining the state championship they won two years ago. The Hawks took a big early lead, and were on top 23-12 as the first quarter ended. Basfield jumped on Hawk reserves in the second quarter, and North Central could do little right as Basfield scored 14 points to the Hancock Countians six. The Hawks still couldn't find the form they showed last Saturday night against Harrison Central in the third quarter and the two clubs were tied 45-apiece going to the final period. North Central took the lead in the fourth quarter but Basfield tied the score and went ahead in the final minute. Sophomore Berlin Ladner scored 13 points to lead a well-balanced Hawk attack. Richard Cuevas scored 12 and Eugene Ladner 12 for the Hawks in support, and Donald Wayne Ladner and O. J. Peterson scored seven each. Melvin Mitchell scored four points and Lionel Hode, who made the winning basket for the Hawks last week in the Sub-District finale, was held to two points. Coach Billy Sills said Hode's bad knee was troubling him so he saw little action.

BILL SILL AND ACCEPTS SECOND PLACE TROPHY FOR LOGTOWN

PICAYUNE DRUG GIRLS WIN THEIR DIVISION

Plummer, Picayune Win Sideline Play

Plummer's Realty successfully defended their men's championship in the second annual St. Louis Sideline Club basketball tournament last week, and Picayune Drug captured the girls' crown as Saturday night's finale concluded six nights of activity. Plummer's eliminated Logtown, composed chiefly of former Bay High players, in the finals 60-44, leading nearly all the way. Dewitt Kennedy and Bill Breland sparked Logtown with 10 points each in a losing cause.

Plummer's, of Gulfport, in semifinal play defeated Drott Tile Setters of Bay St. Louis 49-38. W. J. Cameron scored 14 for Drott to lead all scorers.

Logtown had advanced to the finals with a 67-60 win over Friendship House in a Friday night semi-final game behind the high scoring of Tommy Godwin. Godwin canned 25 points but relinquished game high-point honors to Jerry Gill of Friendship House, who scored 28.

Picayune Drug succeeded Moran's as girls' champions with a 58-53 victory over Weinsacker's of Mobile, Ala., in the final round. Brenda Summers, a former Carriere star, led Picayune Drug in the final game and for the biggest part of the tournament in scoring, ripping the nets for 22 points in the championship affair.

Picayune Drug eliminated Moran's in the semi-finals 52-44. Margaret Rushing and Marie Pierce scored 21 and 20 points apiece for Moran's, while Virginia Kirkland led Picayune Drug with 27 points.

Logtown, behind Woody Allison and Dewitt Kennedy, had beaten another area team, St. Williams, 53-48 in a close boys' quarterfinal contest Thursday night. Woody Allison's 17 points paced Logtown but Kennedy followed closely with 15. John Neace scored 13 for St. Williams. Wednesday night's activity involving local teams saw Logtown beat V & M Foods of Pass Christian 54-46 and Drott edge Bob's Grocery of Biloxi 62-57. Tommy Godwin, Woody Allison, and Dewitt Kennedy led Logtown in scoring with 15, 14, and 14 respectively. Drott was paced to their victory by W. J. Cameron, scoring 14 markers.

Norris Plummer of Plummer's and Brenda Summers of Picayune Drug were selected the Local team trailed 10-6 in the first quarter, but took the second quarter and won the game 59-30. The Gold Jays led 25-17 at half-time and 45-20 after three periods. Jo Krieger, at usual, led the Gold Jays, scoring 28 points.

Heard the word?
We were third in sales in '61. Third!

It's nice to be loved.

Like we've said: "When people like a car they show it." All you have to do is put together a car that's sharper looking, smoother running and a bigger value. That's why Pontiac and Tempest stormed into third place. Why don't you see your Pontiac dealer (a very happy man these days) and go with a winner?

LOOK WHAT'S HAPPENED TO THE OLD WOOD STOVE

By Disappearing, They Helped Create A $500 Million Market In Mississippi

Wood stoves have almost disappeared in Mississippi along with the once familiar stacks of stove wood.

They began to disappear when electricity became available in Mississippi through the formation of Electric Power Associations.

Modern, efficient electric ranges have appeared in the place of the old wood stove. The kitchen and the entire household have a new look; they're lighter, brighter, and take less time to clean and keep. Lights, running water, indoor plumbing, washers, dryers, hot water heaters and many other modern time, labor and money saving appliances have appeared in the home.

But the homeowner is not the only one who has gained as a result of the disappearance of the old wood stove. The merchant and the manufacturer have profited, too.

Statistics show that for every dollar spent on Electric Power Associations, four dollars is spent on electric appliances, equipment and fixtures. The member-owners of Electric Power Associations have spent more than $500,000,000.00 for these items in Mississippi. Another $8 to $10 million will be spent for them this year.

That is a half-billion dollar market which would not have existed without these Electric Power Associations. That boost to the economy has affected the income of every man, woman and child in Mississippi.

That's what happened to the "old wood stove."
